MEMOIR OF A TEENAGE RUNAWAY

run away with me

At fifteen, Rachael Holton was desperate to escape.

Raised in a sheltered religious world, she longed for freedom, belonging, and a place where she could finally be herself. Instead, she found herself pulled into a series of choices that would carry her far from home and force her to grow up long before she was ready.

Spanning small towns, highways, motels, courtrooms, and the complicated terrain of adolescence, Run Away With Me is a memoir about longing, identity, resilience, and the search for home. It is the story of a young woman navigating love, loss, and survival while trying to answer a question that followed her everywhere she went:

Where do I belong?

Honest and deeply reflective, Run Away With Me explores the lasting impact of the relationships that shape us and the courage it takes to reclaim our own story.

*Rachael Holton is a writer, mother, and survivor. In Run Away With Me, she shares the true story of her experiences as a teenage runaway and the journey that shaped the woman she would become. She lives in the foothills of the North Georgia mountains with her family.*

Run Away With Me is her debut memoir.
